

Saugeen First Nation (ALFDC)

On-Reserve LMI Pilot Project Summary of survey data up to June 2020

Community Survey

100 completed surveys → 13% of the On-Reserve 15+ population

As more of the population is surveyed - the more precise the information becomes

Based on the current number of respondents in this community, the accuracy of the data is within + or - 9 percentage points.

Education

60% completed at least some Post-secondary

59% also reported other licenses or certificates

9% reported other training or courses

Job status

When taking into account traditional and occasional jobs

Traditional skills jobs include things like fishing, hunting, crafts, guiding

Occasional/informal paid jobs include things like babysitting, repairs, cleaning

Most common skills

Outdoor maintenance

Cooking, preparation and/or preservation of food

Typing, word processing, using software

Least common skills

Computer programming, creating apps

Repairing appliance, small engines, motors

Music, playing instruments, dancing

Navigation and guiding

Most common jobs

Early childhood educators and assistants

Accounting and related clerks

Cashiers

Food and beverage servers

Landscaping and grounds maintenance labourers

Receptionists

Cooks

Security guards and related security service occupations

Future intentions

38% plan to go back to school in the next year

53% are interested in future training

48% are interested in receiving job notifications matching their skills and interests

A better picture of the experience, training and skills of community members and the challenges faced will help to connect people to available jobs and help those that want to get new skills and qualifications.